

Solar Service Engineer

Job Descriptions for a Solar Service Engineer

1. Solar Service engineer should express their operations strategies and objectives to make sure that the company which they are working for reaches its on-site installation targets and operates effectively.
2. Assisting various other higher executives and senior sales executives to technically help in designing / quoting the desired system to the clients.
3. They might also be given the responsibility for the complete operations of a small projects.
4. Service Engineers are required to design, install, or repair equipment related to Solar Equipment's and System. Their repair and installation duties may be performed at client's home or in a place of business.

When it comes to direct Responsibilities and duties typically include:

1. Individuals working as an Site Engineer need to communicate with the higher management to prepare a strategy for Installations efficiently.
2. Completing on site job such as assisting others and lifting materials to the terrace, wiring, purchasing project accessories from local markets and doing all such work which are required for Installing Solar Power System.
3. They are also burdened with managing the company's commercial operations and various expenses and budget.
4. Indirect or direct contact with field level executives for smooth execution of delivery and installation of our system.
5. Proper coordination with the customers for timely delivery of Goods and Services.
6. Other work which involves typically MS Office work, emails etc.

Skills Required.

1. Good problem solving and decision-making skills. This skill-set can possibly be the most important part in identifying problems within the organization and having the capability to evaluate the relevant action required.
2. You should have strong communication skills in English/ Hindi/ kannada.
3. Good on site skills as your main focus and working with seniors /team lead to execute the project fast considering the quality.

Educational/ Experience Requirements

Candidates opting for a role in Service Engineer require at least 3 years of experience of handling solar system installation in a field which is quite relevant to the job role.